Sei tu a dirmi chi sono (2022) is a project by Numero Cromatico designed for their project room in Palazzo Brancaccio for Contemporary Cluster.

The exhibition is a direct reference to Tre Scenari sulla Percezione del Tempo's second scenario, a year-long exhibition divided into three steps, that opened on June 19th, 2021 in Numero Cromatico's exhibition space in Via dei Volsci 165 (San Lorenzo neighbourhood).

In Palazzo Brancaccio's project room, the collective shows to the public an environmental installation where the main character is a tapestry displaying a love poem written by I.L.Y., Numero Cromatico's Artificial Intelligence trained to write love poems.

The project, in line with Numero Cromatico's art production, aims at stimulating the public in an experience with the artwork which is not obvious and straightforward, but rather ambiguous.

The entrance of the project room is obstructed by a green tarp and the installation is visible only if one slightly shifts the tarp and peeps into the room. The environment features materials, colours and texts which are not predictable, with the aim of activating the spectators' multisensorial and introspective experience.
